

Criteria	F (0%)	F (40%)	D (60%)	C (70%)	B (80%)	A (90%)	A (100%)
Format & Structure (40%) Recipient, sender, date, subject, body	No memo format followed; missing most or all required parts.	Few elements present; largely incomplete and disorganised.	Some components included but with many errors (e.g., missing subject line, wrong order).	Most required parts included; structure understandable but with minor errors.	Well-structured memo with only small formatting mistakes.	Professional format; all components included and well-organised.	Perfect format, flawless organisation; follows professional workplace standard.
Audience & Tone (30%) Appropriateness, professionalism, word range (100–120 words)	No awareness of audience; tone highly inappropriate (e.g., casual or rude).	Audience not considered; tone mostly informal; wrong length (too short/too long).	Some attempt to address audience, but tone inconsistent or word choice unprofessional.	Tone generally suitable but lacks consistency; word count close but not within range.	Tone mostly professional; appropriate for intended audience; within word range.	Professional and audience-appropriate; word range respected; tone consistent.	Excellent audience awareness; perfectly professional tone; 100 + words, workplace-ready.
Clarity & Language (30%) Purpose, grammar, spelling, professional style	No clear purpose; unreadable due to poor grammar and language use.	Purpose unclear; numerous grammar/spelling mistakes; informal tone.	Purpose somewhat visible but incomplete; frequent errors (e.g., verb tense, articles).	Purpose generally clear but missing details; some grammar and tone issues.	Purpose is clear with minimal errors; mostly formal and appropriate.	Clear, concise, and professional; very few minor errors.	Perfectly clear, concise, formal, and professional; zero grammar or spelling errors.